

LEADERSHIP COMPETENCY FRAMEWORK

Delivering the future through people

CONTENTS

COMPETENCY FRAMEWORK

Page

| 3 | Focus on Excellence                 |
|---|-------------------------------------|
| 5 | Performance and Resource Management |
| 7 | Creativity and Energy               |
| 8 | Personal Credibility                |
| 9 | Collaborative Working               |

Focus on Excellence

Constantly strives to improve and deliver better service to the customer.

The focus on improvement requires leaders who are aware of Best Practice, who can replicate it and improve on it in the Council, and who can make such changes happen effectively in practice.

| changes happen effectively in practice.  |   |  |  |
|--|---|--|--|
| Effective behaviours   | Ineffective behaviours  |  |  |
| <ul> <li>Knows what best practice is and where tofind it, uses this knowledge to articulate aclear vision of service excellence toothers</li> </ul>                   | <ul> <li>Assumes that how things are donenow is adequate, and that customand practice is good enough to getby</li> </ul>   |  |  |
| <ul> <li>Develops and delivers a practical visionand approach to providing improvedcustomer focussed services</li> </ul>   | <ul> <li>Relies on others to do visioning, andfocuses on what suits the serviceprovider rather than the customer</li> </ul>     |  |  |
| <ul> <li>Translates the understanding of BestPractice into challenging and stretchingtargets</li> </ul>  | <ul> <li>Sets target without challenges sothey will be easily achieved</li> </ul>  |  |  |
| <ul> <li>Recognises that different individuals andgroups in society value differentachievements</li> </ul>   | <ul> <li>Unaware that cultural differences willeffect the relative merit ofachievements to groups withinsociety</li> </ul> |  |  |
| <ul> <li>Is able to recognise defining moments,being confident about defining successand under-achievement, and is able tolearn from them both</li> </ul>             | <ul> <li>Does not read situations or thinkabout learning from experiences</li> </ul>   |  |  |
| <ul> <li>Evidences a high level of customersatisfaction with the quality of service</li> </ul>  | <ul> <li>Assumes the absence of complaintsfrom customers means everything isOK</li> </ul>                                       |  |  |
| <ul> <li>Treats knowledge as a resource to beshared</li> </ul>  | <ul> <li>Shares minimum information withothers</li> </ul>  |  |  |
| <ul> <li>Is insightful in identifying key actions andhas the ability to get to the heart of theissue, to close the gap between what isand what needs to be</li> </ul> | <ul> <li>Waits for others to point out servicedeficiencies and what needs to bedone</li> </ul>                                  |  |  |
|  |   |  |  |

Focus on Excellence - Continued

Constantly strives to improve and deliver better service to the customer.

The focus on improvement requires leaders who are aware of Best Practice, who can replicate it and improve on it in the Council, and who can make such changes happen effectively in practice.

|   | Effective behaviours   | Ineffective behaviours   |
|---|--|--|
| • | Understands the impact of service designand delivery on different groups in thecommunity (and/or) ensures thatcustomers receive services appropriate totheir needs | Does not factor into the design ofservices the requirements of differentgroups |
| • | Considers how customers access services  | Unaware of the needs of customersin accessing services                             |

Performance and Resource Management

Recognises that people are the Council's key resource; that they need the right tools for the job and ensures their skills and abilities are developed to maximise their productivity and that their performance is monitored and managed effectively.

Leaders need to be able to draw clear links between outcomes for customers and the inputs needed to create them, recognising that in most cases we deliver services for people through people.

| services for people infough people.  |   |
|--|---|
| Effective behaviours   | Ineffective behaviours  |
| <ul> <li>Employs a range of leadership styles whichfocus on achieving results in terms ofoutcomes for customers</li> </ul>   | <ul> <li>Uses a single leadership stylefocussed on managing process</li> </ul>   |
| <ul> <li>Demonstrates and models aconfident/competent, flexible, visibleleadership style which is responsive to arange of situations and which isunderpinned by complementary personalvalues</li> </ul> | • Employs a style or behaviours inconsistent or incompatible with the desired culture, or one which is invisible or inflexible                    |
| • Empowers others in the team to enable them to make a full contribution to service excellence   | <ul> <li>Disempowers his/her team,preventing the skills and abilities ofteam members being fullyemployed</li> </ul>                |
| <ul> <li>Uses a range of development techniques todevelop talent in self and others</li> </ul>  | <ul> <li>Does not develop own talents orthose of others</li> </ul>   |
| <ul> <li>Promotes equality and diversity throughmanagement action (OR) creates a climatewhere equality and diversity are valued andunderstood</li> </ul>  | <ul> <li>Does not foster an environment inwhich culture and diversityconsiderations are inherent inmanagement practices</li> </ul> |
| <ul> <li>Is able to work positively with conflict,ambiguity and uncertainty</li> </ul>  | <ul> <li>Avoids opportunities to resolveconflict. Sees ambiguity anduncertainty as irresolvableblockages on progress</li> </ul>    |
| <ul> <li>Makes evidenced-based decisions, taking into account different needs</li> </ul>   | <ul> <li>Relies on decision making withoutsufficient supporting evidence</li> </ul>  |

Performance and Resource Management - Continued

Recognises that people are the Council's key resource; that they need the right tools for the job and ensures their skills and abilities are developed to maximise their productivity and that their performance is monitored and managed effectively.

Leaders need to be able to draw clear links between outcomes for customers and the inputs needed to create them, recognising that in most cases we deliver services for people through people.

| Effective behaviours   | Ineffective behaviours  |  |
|--|---|--|
| <ul> <li>Is persistent in recognising, seeking outand using intelligence to monitor andimprove performance and the use ofresources</li> </ul> | <ul> <li>Ignores performance data, otherevidence and potential informationsources which will assist changemanagement, improvedperformance, and the moreefficient and effective use ofresources</li> </ul> |  |
| <ul> <li>Demonstrates the capacity to make soundjudgements consistently</li> </ul>  | <ul> <li>Demonstrates an absence ofwisdom and sound judgement</li> </ul>   |  |

Creativity and Energy

Thinks and acts creatively in response to challenges and difficulties in achieving excellence.

A leader needs to be able to be receptive to new ideas and to create an environment of creativity in which new ideas will be generated and harnessed. It is important that leaders have a positive approach to change, value creative thinking and are able to sustain energy, stamina and resilience to manage the challenges of making complex changes happen successfully.

| Effective behaviours  | Ineffective behaviours  |
|---|---|
| <ul> <li>Is a self starter, managing his/her ownenergy levels well, and is able to pacehis/her efforts effectively</li> </ul>                           | <ul> <li>Requires other people to motivatehim/her and has inadequate driveto achieve impact</li> </ul>  |
| <ul> <li>Is able to be inspired and be inspiring</li> </ul>   | <ul> <li>Lacks self assurance, transmitscomplacency, is seemingly un-energised or threatened bychallenges or suggestedimprovements</li> </ul>   |
| <ul> <li>Is inquisitive and enquiring and displays a restlessness to improve service quality and effectiveness</li> </ul>   | <ul> <li>Is disinterested in continuallymaking things better, being contentto maintain the status quo</li> </ul>  |
| <ul> <li>Is receptive to fresh insights from diversesources in and out of own service area</li> </ul>  | <ul> <li>Resists alternative views or freshinsights that could inform futureoptions</li> </ul>  |
| <ul> <li>Stimulates and encourages creativity andinnovation in self and others</li> </ul>  | <ul> <li>Has low expectations of others aswell as of him/herself, anddiscourages innovative thinking</li> </ul>   |
| <ul> <li>Generates, tests and implements a rangeof innovative approaches to delivering highquality services, and to overcomingobstacles</li> </ul> | <ul> <li>Sees difficulties as an excuse formaintaining the status quo andavoids even low level risks inmanaging change</li> </ul>  |
| <ul> <li>Is able to take the strategic vision andplans through to implementation,understanding the key processes andissues</li> </ul>              | Unable to interpret or use theCouncil's strategic vision and otherstrategic documents to plan orachieve improved outcomes or toanticipate the change processesrequired in his/her own service |

| LEADERSHIP COMPETENCIES  |  |   |   |
|--|--|---|---|
| Personal CredibilityIs self-aware and able to make impact by motivating others. Acts as a rolemodel of leadership inside and outside the Council.           |  |   |   |
| Leading change and improvement, especially in the face of challenges, requires self confident, aware leaders who inspire confidence in others and who can lead by example. |  |   |   |
|  | Effective behaviours   |   | Ineffective behaviours  |
| •  | Consistently behaves in accordance with the desired culture, particularly in times of crisis and is comfortable with uncertainty                         | • | Appears to others to be in support ofthe desired culture by what is said,but behaves in a contrary orinconsistent way               |
| •  | Sets and maintains consistently high standards of behaviour for self and others  | • | Fails to set standards of behaviourfor others or model leadershipbehaviour him/herself  |
| •  | Clearly understands and values the diversityof the city and works proactively to buildequality and eliminate discrimination                      | • | Unaware of the diversity of the City,therefore does not work towardsachieving equality for all residents,eliminating discrimination |
| •  | Takes personal ownership and demonstrateshigh levels of integrity, acting as a role modelfor excellence.   | • | Avoids owning problems, isinsincere. May also act as a magnetfor a subversive counter culture   |
| •  | Communicates in an open, inclusive way,listens and hears others, asks for feedbackand responds to this in a positive manner                      | • | Presses a narrow viewpoint,irrespective of other opinions andfails to acknowledge thecontributions of others                        |
| •  | Is sensitive to and encouraging of others,while moving forward and keeping a focuson achieving results   | • | Communicates in ways that preventfeedback, convincing others there islittle point in engaging or makingtheir own contributions      |
| •  | Is recognised as the leader of a servicewhich delivers excellence, is forward thinkingand is consequently held up as a model ofbest practice | • | Is recognised as a brake on theprogress of the organisation or theservice or even as an active'saboteur' of agreed change           |
|  |  | J |   |

Collaborative Working

Actively develops alliances and works effectively with partners, stakeholders and customers to improve the Council and the City; to achieve mutually beneficial goals; and to promote a positive image of Hull.

Leaders in local government work in a complex environment, where to be effective the leadership role must be acceptable to and conferred on them by others. To meet the challenge of bringing about excellence they must understand the impact of their decisions and actions, and be able to influence others through persuasion and negotiation, as collaborative action is more effective than duplication or competition

| effective than duplication or competition.   |   |  |  |
|--|---|--|--|
| Effective behaviours   |   | Ineffective behaviours   |  |
| Demonstrates a real understanding ofthe value of collaborative working andthat the service cannot stand alone  | •   | Maintains an introverted or protectionistapproach to his/her own service withoutunderstanding the value of collaborativeworking  |  |
| Gets results by actively seeking to workin partnership with others, andunderstands when to lead and when tofollow such collaborative activities  | •   | Works in an isolated way and attempts todominate peers or to disengage fromcollective approaches   |  |
| Builds inclusive partnerships thatmaximise the opportunities of'difference' amongst partners   | •   | Has no strategy in place to facilitate the synergy to be achieved by working effectively with partners   |  |
| Develops, extends and sustains strongnetworks at senior levels across theCouncil, with City-wide partners andwith appropriate colleagues and ororganisations regionally and nationally | •   | Has poor networking skills leading tomissed opportunities for win:winsituations, both inside and outside theCouncil  |  |
| Demonstrates political awareness andhas effective relationships whenworking with Members and other keypartner representatives  | •   | Is naïve about, ignorant of, ordisinterested in issues of politicalgovernance. Has poor relationships withelected Members and seniorrepresentatives of other strategic partneragencies, displaying a lack ofappreciation or respect for their role   |  |
| Understands that his/her role is broaderthan that of managing their servicearea, and is aware that they are anambassador for the Council, and for theCity                              | •   | Fails to understand the breadth of roleand that, as part of the collective officerleadership of the Council, he/she has acrucial role in reputation management   |  |
|  | Effective behaviours Demonstrates a real understanding of the value of collaborative working and that the service cannot stand alone Gets results by actively seeking to work in partnership with others, and understands when to lead and when to follow such collaborative activities Builds inclusive partnerships that maximise the opportunities of 'difference' amongst partners Develops, extends and sustains strong networks at senior levels across the Council, with City-wide partners and with appropriate colleagues and or organisations regionally and nationally Demonstrates political awareness and has effective relationships when working with Members and other key partner representatives Understands that his/her role is broader than that of managing their service area, and is aware that they are an ambassador for the Council, and for the | Effective behavioursDemonstrates a real understanding ofthe value of collaborative working andthat the service cannot stand alone•Gets results by actively seeking to workin partnership with others, andunderstands when to lead and when tofollow such collaborative activities•Builds inclusive partnerships thatmaximise the opportunities of'difference' amongst partners•Develops, extends and sustains strongnetworks at senior levels across theCouncil, with City-wide partners andwith appropriate colleagues and ororganisations regionally and nationally•Demonstrates political awareness andhas effective relationships whenworking with Members and other keypartner representatives•Understands that his/her role is broaderthan that of managing their servicearea, and is aware that they are anambassador for the Council, and for the• |  |

Collaborative Working - Continued

Actively develops alliances and works effectively with partners, stakeholders and customers to improve the Council and the City; to achieve mutually beneficial goals; and to promote a positive image of Hull.

Leaders in local government work in a complex environment, where to be effective the leadership role must be acceptable to and conferred on them by others. To meet the challenge of bringing about excellence they must understand the impact of their decisions and actions, and be able to influence others through persuasion and negotiation, as collaborative action is more effective than duplication or competition.

| Effective behaviours  | Ineffective behaviours  |
|---|---|
| Tailors communication to be effectiveto a wide range of customers andstakeholders | Unresponsive to the particular needs of others when communicating |

